

AHT Pet Trust

Now you can celebrate the love and loyalty of your pet by supporting the Animal Health Technology Pet Trust at Douglas College.

The AHT Pet Trust gives pet owners a loving way to honour the memory of a pet, or appreciate a special vet or animal lover, while helping to fund an educational program that benefits our animal friends now and in the future.

Douglas College is home to the first and only Animal Health Technology program in Metro Vancouver. Graduates will help address the shortage of trained veterinary paraprofessionals in BC and will become part of the trusted veterinary team that provides the outstanding animal care and nursing you have come to expect from BC veterinary clinics.

By supporting the AHT Pet Trust, you are helping to improve the health and the quality of life of companion animals. For more information on the Animal Health Technology Program or the AHT Pet Trust, please visit:
