Complete Form with Entries Under the Following Headings: O. Course Objectives; P. Course Content; Q. Method of Instruction; R. Course Evaluation

O: Course Objectives:

Through performing and listening to jazz music students will learn the following:

1. Ensemble techniques - vocal jazz sound and blend, rhythmic accuracy, intonation, singing with microphones.
2. Proper phrasing and articulation of various jazz styles from the 1930s and 1940s to the present day, including jazz/rock arrangements.
3. Improvisational skills (scat singing).
4. Sight reading.
5. Modern recording techniques in the studio.
6. Recognition and appreciation of various styles and periods in the history of jazz.
7. Writing, study scoring, and solo analysis.

P: Course Content:

Repertoire will consist of representative examples of various jazz styles. In addition, ear training tapes and improvisation materials such as those by Aebersold or Baker will be incorporated.

Q: Method of Instruction:

Students will work as a vocal jazz ensemble under the direction of the instructor. Technical and stylistic concepts will be explained and realized in performance. Demonstration materials--tapes, recordings, etc.--will be used appropriately. The ensemble will work with and without amplification, with and without a rhythm section.

R: Evaluation:

Midterm test and/or Assignments	20%
Final exam and/or Assignments	20%
Ensemble skills (including performance at dress rehearsals and scheduled concerts)	30%
Attendance*	30%

N.B.: In a performing group, regular attendance is vital to the learning of ensemble skills and the achievement of high performance standards. Absences affect every member of the ensemble; therefore, 10% of the final mark will be deducted for each unexcused absence, to a maximum of 30%. Excused absences will include illness and urgent family or personal matters.

All evaluation components must be completed in order to achieve a passing grade.

MUS 242 is a continuation of MUS 142 (Vocal Jazz), a new course offered in September 1990 that was designed to fill a gap in the UT Music program allowing students to learn jazz styles, and thus increase students employability when applying for teaching jobs in the public school system. Kevin Barrington-Foote has developed a generic course outline modelled after MUS 131 (Jazz Band) which reflects the philosophy of all the ensembles in the music program. There are a few details added into MUS 242 by Rejean Marois, the Vocal Jazz instructor of Fall 1990 and instructor for this course for Spring 1991.
